

Sage Family Genealogical Report (Sample)

By Cady Hammer

Note: Despite having completed several years' worth of personal genealogical research and professional research for various internships, I have never been asked to create a narrative report. I have modeled this sample report after documents that I have worked with in the past and the genealogy citations based on the Genealogy Appendix to the Hanover College Style Sheet for Chicago Manual Footnotes. I have also attached two sample biographies that I wrote for my graduate fellowship at Fort Ticonderoga to showcase the typical style in which I have presented my genealogical research. Thank you for your consideration.

Daniel served in the Revolutionary War as a Patriot. He first enlisted for three months with the Company of Captain Wright of Vermont in late 1775.<sup>xliii</sup> By late December, he had marched with the Company through the western parts of Connecticut and Massachusetts and through Skenesborough in Vermont, on to Ticonderoga, Crown Point, St. Johns, and Montreal. When he reached Quebec after the Battle of Quebec at the dawn of 1776, he re-enlisted there to continue service in Canada. Daniel was stationed most of the time on Abraham's Plains until the end of April 1776 when he enlisted again a few days before the American army was forced to retreat from Canada. While a member of the Company of Captain Wheeler and the Regiment of Colonel Porter of Massachusetts, he retreated from Canada alongside his brother's regiment. Daniel's regiment then regrouped at Fort Ticonderoga and Mount Independence, keeping sentry and building forts into the fall. He and the others left Ticonderoga in late fall 1776 and moved to Fishkill, New York. He remained there until the end of January or early February 1777, after which he was discharged. Daniel re-enlisted a final time in fall 1777 under Captain Waters, Lieutenant Darrow, and Colonel Sutherland. His regiment marched along the Hudson River to Esopus. He was on duty around that area until his two-month term ended and he was discharged at Fishkill in December 1776. He completed his military service with the rank of Sergeant Major.<sup>xliv</sup>
